The books are here

What does that mean? We have over 250 new books making their way to the Media Center. Some of the titles include: Institute by Stephen King, Testaments by Margaret Atwood, The Vampire Diaries series, a series about off-road vehicles, cookbooks for healthy eating, SAT prep books and many other fiction and non-fiction books, as well as a large selection of graphic novels. We even added a new collection of children's books written in a foreign language! Test your knowledge by checking out this collection. Drop by the Media Center soon and browse our New Arrivals section!

Makerspace

Did you know our school has a 3D Printer? Our Dremel 3D40 lives in the Makerspace and is available for students to use. We have seen everything from army men and planes to yarn spools and spiders. The possibilities are endless! We can show you recommended websites for design and even books that will help guide you through the process. We can't wait for you to come in and explore!

Media Center Trivia

Mrs. Cousino isn't the only one in her family who works here at CGHS! Think you know her relative? Come see us with your guess and receive a prize!

Media Team Spotlight

Meet Mrs. Cousino, our AV Specialist & Media Assistant. This is her second year in the Media Center, and she loves being part of such a great team. Mrs. Cousino is a CGHS alumni - class of 2008! Mrs. Cousino has a wonderful husband that she met in college at Ball State University. The newest addition to her family is her one-year-old daughter who is pure joy!

In her free time Mrs. Cousino loves baseball (Go! Cubs Go!), crafting, sewing and reading. Of course, she hopes her daughter will share these loves, too, as she grows up!

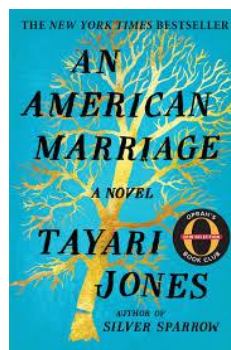

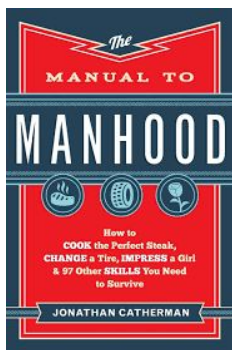

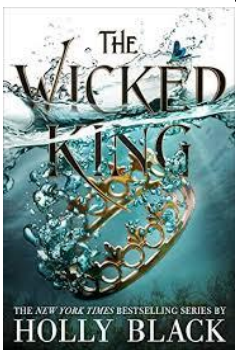

Student Reader Spotlight

Sofie Ballesteros, our student reader spotlight, reads because it allows her to explore new, far-away places and worlds. While school work is always a priority, Sofie finds reading gives her a break from her everyday routine! Even though she has read 8 books this year, she doesn't have a favorite. She does like author Sarah Maas, and she is very excited for book #4 in the Court of Thorns and Roses series to be released.
